

Ways to Honor Your Staff During National Healthcare Supply Chain Week October 1-7, 2017

- Order fun and affordable gifts for everyone on your staff from the official SC Week Store at www.jimcolemanstore.com/scweek.
- Honor your Supply Chain Director with a card, flowers, or just say Thank You.
- Pay for your staff to obtain the Certified Materials & Resource Professional certification.
- Reward your staff with AHRMM membership.
- Put up your agenda for the week that lists the special events you have planned for your department and invite other departments to the celebrations.
- Take staff out to lunch, to a sporting event, picnic, play, etc.
- Utilize the SC Week Promotional Toolkit with pre-written messages to promote SC Week and honor your staff in your organization's newsletter or on social media.
- Create a Supply Chain Trivia Game. Involve your staff and create questions and answers about work your department does, everyday activities, words associated with supply chain.
- Create a Scavenger Hunt involving words associated with supply chain and each day select a winner who will receive a personalized mug or an official SC Week pen that can be ordered at www.jimcolemanstore.com/scweek.
- Ask all the departments to participate in creating a display about the supply chain department.
- Have a Supply Chain Olympics Games: Each day offer a different fun program.
- Give an individual Thank You card to each supply chain professional.
- Put up a table in the lobby or other designated public area in your facility showcasing pictures of all staff members and the activities they do.
- Order new supply chain-related books and manuals for each of your staff.
- Ask your staff to give you a wish list and meet with your administrator to see if any of these items can be purchased for your department. Surprise them during this special week.
- Host an Open House in your department, serve refreshments and invite staff, patients, and volunteers to come. Invite other supply chain staff and directors in the area.
